Position of the course
In this advanced subject the student is asked to demonstrate his/her mastery of a selection of final curricular competencies by writing a Master's Dissertation of approximately 20,000 words (excluding the bibliography) to complete his/her MA studies. Those competencies include being able to think and act in a scientific way, being able to apply research methods and techniques in an advanced setting, and being able to report about one's own research to the profession.

Contents
To be agreed upon with the supervisor. The Master's dissertation will have a comparative and/or literary theoretical dimension. The supervisor will hold a Ph.D. in an area connected to the study programme.

Initial competences
Having successfully completed the bachelor research paper or having acquired the necessary skills by other means.

Final competences
1. Advanced comprehension of and insight into the scientific knowledge related to the discipline in general and comparative methods and/or theoretical models pertaining to the main subject in particular.
2. Ability to analyse scientific texts from within the discipline and one or more related disciplines.
3. Ability to synthesize texts from within the discipline and one or more related disciplines and/or integrate insights from those texts.
4. Ability to apply research methods and techniques autonomously in an advanced setting.
5. Ability to report scientifically about one's own research to the profession and the professional field.
