<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The study unit “Nederlands: taalstructuren - woord en zin” (N1WZ) seeks to promote grammatical powers of reasoning, insight into the theory of parts of speech and into the structure of constituents, with indirect references to vocabulary and the structure of the lexicon. This involves a great deal of general linguistic knowledge. This mainly theoretical basis in the first year offers leads for the study unit “Dutch: Language Skills” later on. In this study unit, students acquire knowledge about, and insight into, language and language structure that stands to benefit them in a broader context, namely in the study of foreign languages.</td>

<tr>
<td>The subject matter of the study unit “Nederlands: taalstructuren - woord en zin” (N1WZ) is mainly dedicated to acquiring insight into grammar and word meaning. The grammar part homes in on parts of speech and on the constituent (sub-sentence level structures). Issues of morphology and word order are given the necessary attention.</td>
